Conditions of Liquor Traffic in Kentucky Being Discussed by League Leaders in Boston Today.

Boston, June 19.—The leaders of the Kentucky State Liquor league are in session at Boston today, discussing conditions of trade in Kentucky. It is intention to place the control of the body in the hands of an executive committee, which will probably be chosen at a meeting tonight. The Sunday closing question was not touched upon at today's meeting. Among those present were C. J. Meredith, of Bowling Green, vice president, acting president; J. C.

Boardman, of Louisville; Henry Lauer, of Louisville; George H. Roychman, of Henderson; Benjamin Schroeder, of Louisville; M. Gray, of Paducah, and J. F. Gibbons, of Frankfort. Besides the question raised by the legal contest instituted in Louisville and the action of the last legislature there are several matters pertaining entirely to the business of the trade that will occupy the attention of the delegates. They probably will be in session several days. No drastic measures probably will be proposed during the session by any of the members.

BIG HEART

WINS HANDSOME RECOGNITION FOR CHIEF COLLINS.

Head of Police Department Decorated With Elks' Watch Charm By Local Brethren.

Chief of Police James Collins is today wearing a new Elks' watch charm, which yesterday was presented to him by a committee from the local lodge of Elks. The charm was presented to the popular chief by an appreciative body of men in recognition of his good work in the order.

Chief Collins is and has been since he began public life, distinguished because of his big heart. He is charitable and never imposes, and charity is one of the tenets of the order of Elks.

The charm is solid gold and one side has the clock with hand pointing to the hour of 11 and on the other side an Elk's head with eyes set with rubies. Chief Collins is proud of the present beyond expression.

MISLAIN SOCKS WRECK A HOME.

Wife Asks Divorce, Saying Spouse Abused Her Because of Mistake.

Pittsburg, June 19.—The fact that she mislaid a pair of socks that her husband intended to wear caused Mrs. William Reed of Sharpsburg, to bring suit for divorce. Mrs. Reed in her petition, declares that six months after their wedding, in 1898, she mislaid the socks. Her husband was furious, and from that time on, she says, made her life a burden. She declares that every time he became angry he would bring up the question of the mislaid socks, and that on various occasions he tried to shoot her.

OHIO'S GOVERNOR SUCCEUMBS AT LAST

His Death Changes the Whole Course of Administration.

Successor Sworn in, But Will Not Assume Duties Until After the Funeral.

TRIBUTE TO DEAD EXECUTIVE

Cincinnati, O., June 19.—Governor Pattison died late this afternoon after rallying bravely from a sinking spell of Sunday. The oath of office was administered to Lieutenant Governor Harris at Eaton last night by acting Judge Fisher, of the common pleas court.

Governor Pattison was elected by the Democrats in one of the most exciting campaigns ever witnessed in Ohio. Since his inauguration he has been ill and his secretary, Hon. Louis B. Houck, who ran for lieutenant governor on the ticket with Governor Pattison and was defeated, transacted the routine business of the office. Many charges have been made that Governor Pattison was not able to sign bills and official documents and the question of his competency had been raised in court.

His death restores the Republican administration in Ohio.

Eaton, O., June 19.—Governor Harris went to Columbus today. He will not assume the duties of the office until after Governor Pattison's funeral.

Death Was a Shock.

Milford, O., June 19.—The funeral of Governor John M. Pattison probably will be held at the family home Thursday and will be conducted by the Rev. Lesourd, pastor of Milford Methodist church. There will also be a Masonic ceremony.

The death of the governor last evening was a great shock, his relapse being startling. Sunday evening he seemingly was in fair condition. Yesterday morning he complained of a headache and shortly after sank into what was thought a peaceful sleep, but was a torpor which lasted until death relieved him. Sunday evening the governor said to his family physician he believed he would get well.

A Tribute.

Washington, June 19.—Vice-President Fairbanks paid this tribute to Gov. Pattison today: "Gov. Pattison was a brave, true man. He possessed convictions and had courage to adhere to them through good or evil report. He commanded the respect of those who agreed or disagreed with him. He was an upright citizen and a friend of unfailing fidelity."

Frankfort, June 19.—The term of Tillman Albritton of Mayfield, as auditor's agent for the state at large, expired today. Frank Lucas' term will expire June 28. Hager says he will not name the successor to either for some time, the county agents looking after their territory.

Suffering From Lightning Shock, Hon. Sam C. Lancaster Suddenly is Taken Ill in Midst of Lecture.

Suddenly stricken with illness in the midst of his speech at the Home-Coming celebration at Wallace park this afternoon Hon. Sam C. Lancaster, consulting engineer for the agricultural department, was carried out of the tent and the meeting was forced to adjourn without the expected lecture on good roads. Mr. Lancaster was the feature of the occasion and a good sized crowd had congregated in the chautauqua tent to hear him. The only other speaker was Hon. Hal S. Corbett, who preceded and introduced Mr. Lancaster. Mr. Corbett's speech was on "Our Old Kentucky" and was most eloquently delivered. Owing to the threatening weather the attendance of farmers was small. The committee on arrangements, of which Mr. Ben Welle was chairman, worked faithfully for the affair, but the weather was against them and the unfortunate incident of Mr. Lancaster's illness put the climax on the day of set-backs. Mr. Lancaster was near a tree that was struck by lightning yesterday and this produced a severe headache. It is thought the exertion of public speaking was too much after the experience.

PREMATURE

THE COOK COUNTY DEMOCRATS BRAND BRYAN BOOM.

Acrimonious Debate Precipitated Concerning Commoner and Subject Changed.

Chicago, June 19.—The Bryan boom for the presidency did not receive the indorsement of the Cook county democracy. These disciples of simon pure democracy decided that the boom was premature and not the real thing. A. D. Gash, whom the county Democracy intends to nominate for congress, started the oratory for the "commoner." He believed that the club should go on record and add its indorsement to those coming from other parts of the country. Albert H. Putney, dean of the Illinois College of Law, and S. C. Herren, formerly judge in the state of Washington, opposing Gash, characterized the Bryan boom as "a fraud to begot Hearst's campaign for governor of New York."

When the debate became so acrimonious that dissension in the club seemed probable, Chairman McMahon changed the discussion from national to local politics.
